

THE AUSTRALIS CERTIFICATE OF MINISTRY

The Australis Certificate of Ministry is designed to equip people to reflect on their faith, ministry and discipleship in the context of their everyday lives and within a community of learners.

There are six study units in the course. Units are conducted in small groups facilitated by a qualified facilitator. The Bendigo Anglican Diocese awards the Certificate of Ministry to students who complete the six units of study.

The course was originally developed by the Diocese of Lichfield Board of Ministry. It was brought to Australia by Bishop Andrew Curnow of Bendigo, where it was edited and contextualised by Dr Charles Sherlock and administrated by Trinity Theological School (Melbourne). For sixteen years, it was known as the Trinity Certificate. The Anglican Diocese of Bendigo is proud to oversee the next phase in its development. The Rev Dr Margaret Wesley is now responsible for administering and updating the newly renamed Australis Certificate of Ministry.

To date, more than 1,000 people in the dioceses of North Queensland, Brisbane, Sydney, Bathurst, Wangaratta, Bendigo, Ballarat, Melbourne and New Zealand have completed one or more of these units towards the certificate.
